Dear American Legion Boys State Citizen,

Congratulations and welcome to American Legion Boys State! American Legion Boys State is among the most highly respected and selective educational programs of government instruction for U.S. high school students. I am confident that you will not be disappointed with your decision to participate in this outstanding citizenship education experience. It will influence life decisions in ways that you may not fully realize until years later.

As one of thousands of young men from throughout the nation selected to participate in American Legion Boys State each year, you will experience government in a practical sense. American Legion Boys State is a leadership action program; one that teaches government and its structure. It proves that government is just what you make it. You will find Boys State to be challenging and sometimes demanding, however, I'm certain you will undoubtedly also find it enjoyable and educational.

If this government "... of the people, by the people, and for the people" is to remain strong, it requires the involvement of its citizens. The onus of preparing for that responsibility now rests squarely upon your shoulders and those of future generations. Since 1935 American Legion Boys State has been prominent in producing young men who, just like you, stepped up to become ready for accepting that responsibility. It is possible that a future mayor, governor, congressman, or even president, may be among those in your class of American Legion Boys State citizens. I make this statement because this program has historically been the springboard for many careers in local, state and federal public service. Regardless of the future career path you follow – politics, education, business, medicine, information technology or so forth - you will develop lasting bonds of friendship with fellow Boys State citizens that will extend well after the formal program has ended.

I wish to again extend my best wishes for an interest-provoking, exciting and very fulfilling 2022 American Legion Boys State experience.

PAUL E. DILLARD
National Commander

THE AMERICAN LEGION BOYS STATE OF SOUTH DAKOTA

2021 Boys State Governor's Welcome

Hello 2022 Boys Staters!

My name is Joseph Gebel. I am from Mitchell, am an avid member of my school's debate team, and I spend most of my free time playing video games and weightlifting, just like I am sure some of you. I am also, of course, the 2021 Boys State governor, and within the week, one of you is going to take my place.

Now, I honestly cannot tell you what to expect from Boys State. I really can't. No two Boys Staters from my term had the same experience, and I am glad for that. Your Boys State experience is going to be 100% unique to you, fully and comprehensively yours. That experience will be shaped by what you do, what you learn, and the people around you. I know it is a cliché, but this is a week that is assuredly going to stand out amongst your high school career.

You will get to hear powerful speakers, talk with interesting and experienced people, partake in activities that expand your knowledge, sense of country, and understanding of the rule of law with peers from across this great state. Frankly, I am jealous of you. This week is the start of an all-too-brief journey, one that I am glad I have the privilege to help you all with.

So, this week, have fun, do as much as you possibly can, and make this experience your own.

Joseph Gebel
SD Boys State Governor 2021

American Legion State Commander's Welcome

Congratulations and welcome to the 2022 American Legion Boys State of South Dakota. This session marks the 79th session of our program. You will find this opportunity an exciting adventure as you study government at the state and local levels; participate in varied recreational and extracurricular activities; as well as live, work and associate with other outstanding young men, instructors and counselors representing practically every city and county in South Dakota.

The American Legion Boys State program is among the most respected and selective educational programs of instruction for high school juniors and seniors in the nation.

The American Legion Boys State is a leadership action program; one that teaches the structure of government and the rights and responsibilities of citizenship. I ask that you give 100% from the first day to the last day and you will be rewarded with knowledge that will assist you the rest of your life.

Always remember, it is you and other students of your generation that will be the future leaders of our Communities, our State, and Nation, to carry-on and continue our way of life.

You are joining the ranks of other prominent citizens such as Senator John Thune, Tom Brokaw, Tom Daschle and even our past South Dakota Governor Dennis Daugaard. As you go throughout this week, you will learn, exercise your right to campaign and vote, and make many new and lasting friendships that you will never forget.

The American Legion Boys State staff, counselors, and I hope you all enjoy your week at Boys State. Have fun, work hard and engage in the program. On behalf of the Department of South Dakota American Legion and more than 18,000 members, we are all very proud of you and say THANK YOU for attending.

Sincerely,

Gary Wolkow, State Commander
The American Legion
Department of South Dakota

GENERAL INFORMATION

WHAT IS BOYS STATE?

Boys State is a nationwide program. Last year, there were 50 American Legion sponsored Boys States in operation. The American Legion in the state of Illinois began this far-reaching activity in 1935. South Dakota Boys State was founded in Aberdeen in 1940 and subsequent meetings were held in 1941 and 1942. World War II halted this activity, but South Dakota Boys State resumed in 1946. This 2022 session will be South Dakota's 79th Boys State.

So many prominent Legionnaires participated in the organization of South Dakota Boys State that it is somewhat unfair to mention names, but some of the more active promoters were N. Peter Wenge, Ivan Huntsinger, Dr. Harry Darling, Mr. Charles Dalthorp, all of Aberdeen, and Judge Harry Mundt. The excellent organization of this program is due largely to their planning and foresight. A plaque on the Northern State campus has been erected in their honor by former Boys Staters.

American Legion Boys State of South Dakota has a two-fold purpose. First, to better help youth understand and appreciate the American system of government and way of life including the rights and responsibilities of citizenship. Second, to give a better knowledge of the fundamental principles of government within the State of South Dakota. These objectives are sought by establishment of a mythical 51st State of the Union, comprising counties and cities, giving Boys State actual experience in control and operation of these units of government. The American Legion wants the Boys of South Dakota to understand the problems of government as well as how it functions.

Upon reaching Boys State, citizens are assigned to one of the two mythical political parties and to residence in a specific city and county. The two parties are designated as "Federalist" and "Nationalist" with absolutely no connection to political parties as they exist in South Dakota today. With the exception of city elections, which are non-political as they are in South Dakota, party caucuses and conventions are held, with full slates of officers elected at county and state level. Appointive offices are also filled.

WHEN AND WHERE?

All Boys Staters should plan to arrive in Aberdeen on Monday, May 30th, 2022 and report between 12:00 p.m. and 2:00 p.m. to the Johnson Fine Arts Center (JFAC), Northern State University (NSU). Please be on time. Travel to and from Aberdeen is the responsibility of the sponsoring American Legion Post.

WHAT SHOULD I BRING TO BOYS STATE?

Each citizen must bring the Medical Statement/Claim Waiver signed by a parent. Citizens should bring ample clothing for the week; casual dress (with shoes) is recommended. FOR THE GOVERNOR'S BANQUET, BRING SUIT AND COAT. Citizens should also bring bed sheets, a pillow, a blanket or sleeping bag, towels, toiletries, and a pen/pencil. Optional items include hangers, camera, musical instruments, and sports equipment. An official Boys State shirt will be given to each citizen.

* Boys Staters will need only a limited amount of spending money. Funds will be needed for refreshments and for some of the recreational facilities in the Student Center. ****

ALTHOUGH REASONABLE PRECAUTIONS ARE TAKEN TO PROTECT INDIVIDUAL PROPERTY, BOYS STATE WILL NOT BE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE LOSS OR THEFT OF PERSONAL PROPERTY. ROOMS WILL NOT BE LOCKED.

BAND AND CHORUS

Northern State music faculty will direct the Boys State Chorus and Band. Each will perform a concert at Boys State on Thursday night. CAMPAIGN ETHICS

Our government was founded upon a system of checks and balances that would prevent one person or a small group of people from gaining unrestrained power. When the American colonies broke away from the British Empire, it was not because they were against kings, but that they were rebelling against the oppressive policies of King George III and his government. Under King George III, the colonies had very few rights to representation. Our rights to vote and express opinions are preserved in the U.S. Constitution and the Bill of Rights. With these rights come certain responsibilities for those who campaign for public office. These responsibilities include conducting oneself with a high level of ethical standards. This conduct at Boys State includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- Campaign materials must not contain sexual connotations.
- All campaign posters and/or advertising must only present information about the candidate and cannot contain negative statements about other candidates.
- Candidates for office must always exercise certain positive social ethics.
- Alteration or degradation of another candidate's campaign material is forbidden.
- Absolutely no gifts or token materials are allowed to be distributed for campaign purposes.

Any questions and/or disputes related to political campaigns will be answered and/or satisfied by the Board of Directors of South Dakota American Legion Boys State. Any candidate or candidacy violating campaign ethics may result in a candidate being prohibited from running for office.

PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

It is not possible, in this manual, to cover the entire subject of Parliamentary Law. It is thought, however, that a brief outline may be of some help to Boys State members in conducting meetings, conventions, caucuses, or in legislative procedure. For further information, refer to Roberts Rules of Order.

OBTAINING THE FLOOR

Before a member in any meeting is permitted to make a motion, or debate a question, it is necessary that he "obtains the floor." This is done by addressing the presiding officer by his official title, namely, Mr. Chairman, Mr. President, or Mr. Speaker. When the member is recognized by the presiding officer, the member may then proceed to speak.

MOTIONS

When a motion is pending, that is, being discussed or considered, no further motion shall be made until the pending motion has been disposed of, except:

- A motion to adjourn (not debatable).
- A motion to take a recess (not debatable).
- A motion to lay on the table (not debatable).
- A motion for the previous question (not debatable).
- A motion to amend.
- A motion to postpone indefinitely.

These motions have precedence in the order listed. For instance, if a motion to amend is pending, it would still be proper to make any of the preceding motions. The first four motions are not debatable, nor are they subject to amendment.

If it is desired to close debate, and bring the pending question to an immediate vote, the proper procedure is to move the previous question. This motion is usually stated as follows: "I move the previous question." It must be seconded, and stops all further debate, as above indicated.

A method used to suppress a motion, or question, under consideration is to move to lay it on the table. It is not debatable. It often has the effect to kill the motion before it can be debated or put to vote. A motion to indefinitely postpone the question may accomplish the same thing. If a motion has been suppressed by a motion to lay on the table or indefinitely postpone, it may again be considered by a motion to reconsider the vote by which the former motion was lost, or passed, as the case may be. This motion can only be made, however, by someone who voted with the prevailing side.

SECONDING MOTIONS

No motion can be entertained and debated until it is seconded. It is not necessary to second a nomination.

DEBATE

In debating a motion, or question, each member has the right to speak twice on the same subject but may not make a second speech on the same question as long as any member who has not spoken on the subject desires the floor. No one may speak longer than five minutes at a time without permission of the rest of the members. Debate must be limited to the immediately pending question.

STATE THE QUESTION-DEBATE-VOTE

After a motion is made and seconded, the presiding officer should repeat the motion as made. If no one arises to talk on the motion, or it appears debate has ended, the presiding officer then asks, "Are you ready for the question?" If no one asks to speak further on the subject, the presiding officer then puts the question, that is, takes a vote. The vote is taken by the presiding officer stating, "those in favor of the motion say aye" and the converse, namely, "all those opposed say no." He then announces that the motion is carried or lost, as the case might be. The presiding officer may, at his discretion, call for a show of hands, or a standing vote. If the motion cannot be debated, as previously explained, the presiding officer does not ask "are you ready for the question," but immediately puts the question after stating it.

VOTE REQUIRED

Motions are passed by a majority vote, except for a motion calling for the previous question, which requires a two-thirds majority vote.

AMENDMENTS

All motions may be amended, except as indicated previously. An amendment may be made to strike out or add words, sentences, or paragraphs, or substituting the entire motion for another on the same subject. An amendment must be germane to the subject to be amended, and an amendment to an amendment must be germane to the latter. When a motion has been amended one or more times, the vote is first upon the last amendment, then upon the previous amendment, and then upon the main question. A substitute motion for all pending motions is a form of amendment.

POLITICAL INFORMATION

POLITICAL ORGANIZATION

The Citizens of South Dakota Boys State are divided into two political parties - the "Federalists" and the "Nationalists," and each boy is randomly assigned a political party upon registration. These titles have no political connotation. Citizens are assigned to political parties by lot and are expected to remain loyal to their party throughout the period of Boys State.

Throughout the week's program, every effort is made to prevent cliques, blocs, or other preconceived groups from developing too much power. Such groups are usually formed for selfish motives and become undemocratic, if not actually harmful to the ideals of the program. Boys from the larger centers are scattered throughout the entire organization to make it easier for each boy to exercise free and independent functions of citizenship without undue pressure from friends of his home community.

Special emphasis is placed on political parties, political campaigns, and elections in Boys State. It is believed that citizens of a community, state, or nation have a better opportunity to express themselves in government through the medium of political parties than through their individual efforts as citizens. Platforms are constructed, developing party aims and ideas at party conventions, thereby permitting a group of citizens who have mutual interests, to collectively develop a program for the people as a whole. In Boys State, each party should give sincere thought and careful deliberation to the formulation of a platform. There are any number of constructive challenges, which may well be recognized and incorporated into party platforms. The candidates in each party's state ticket should campaign for the benefit of the party ticket and support the ideals and principles embodied in the party platform. The success or failure of a party ticket will depend largely upon the soundness and popularity of the party platform, and the aggressiveness with which the campaign is carried on.

The political organization of South Dakota Boys State is based on the theory that every citizen present at the annual summer session is in effect a precinct committeeman for his party, even though he has not been elected as an official delegate to represent his party at caucuses or conventions. It is expected that each citizen should participate in party conferences and contribute his best judgment toward the selection of candidates for office and toward the formulation of a party platform.

POLITICAL DIVISION

South Dakota Boys State is organized with five wards to a city, three cities to a county, and five counties in South Dakota Boys State. Approximately five boys are assigned to each ward, twenty-five to a city, and seventy-five to a county. In order to create naturalness in organizations, the cities and counties are given names. For convenience in camp administration, both counties and cities are given a number sequence. Governmental subdivisions are organized as follows:

1. Wards within cities are numbered from one to five, inclusive.
2. County Commissioner's districts consist of three wards, one from each city in the county. For example, the first Commissioner's district is composed of the citizens in Ward One of cities 1, 2, and 3, the second Commissioner from Ward Two, etc. One commissioner is elected from each district, or a total of five from the county.
3. Legislative districts are coterminous in area with county boundaries. Eight Senators are elected from each county. Sixteen representatives to the Legislature of South Dakota Boys State are selected from each county.
4. One county constitutes a Judicial Circuit, as well as a Supreme Court District.

ELECTION PROCEDURES

All elections will conform to South Dakota laws as far as practicable. It is not practical to hold a Primary Election in Boys State except for Governor because of lack of time. All county officers must be nominated on the second day, and party candidates must therefore be selected at party caucuses.

During elections, all polls are opened at the time designated on the daily program. Official returns on each election are to be reported to the Election Commission (Headquarters JFAC 107) as soon as the polls close and a count is finalized. Officers elected at this time will be sworn in before the General Assembly at the time indicated. Any citizen is eligible to be elected to any one office. Doubling up on offices not only reduces the number of boys who are given training and leadership opportunities, but also makes it difficult and in many instances, impossible, for the various agencies of the government to function properly.

The following procedures are required for all elections: there will be a voting booth for each city; every voter will be required to register; all ballots will be stamped; a ballot box will be used.

ELECTION BOARD

The City Counselor will appoint a temporary election board prior to the first election. The Mayor then appoints an election board consisting of three judges of election, one of whom shall be designated as Superintendent and not more than two of whom shall be of the same political party. The judges shall choose two persons as clerks, one from each party.

It shall be the duty of the Superintendent of the election to erect and have ready the voting booths and election supplies. The Superintendent shall have charge of the registration list and shall check off each voter who presents himself to vote. One of the other judges shall deliver an official ballot to each qualified voter after having stamped the back of the ballot with the words "Official Ballot." The remaining judge will check the returned ballots to ensure that they have the official stamp before the ballot is placed in the ballot box. One clerk shall keep a poll list and enter the names of each person voting. The other clerk shall assist as needed.

Candidates for office should not be members of the election board. However, in county elections because of the large number of offices, these rules will be waived. The election board will serve for the county election on Wednesday, and the state election on Thursday. Note that while under the laws of our State, the County Auditor appoints the election judges for all elections, it is not feasible to follow such procedure in Boys State for obvious reasons.

ELECTION RESULTS

As soon as results of nominating caucuses or elections are tabulated, the counselor in charge will send the results to Headquarters JFAC 107. Be sure that the tabulation is accurate, and the boy's name is correctly spelled in full, along with his Boys State city.

CITY ELECTIONS

There are three forms of municipal government for cities in South Dakota: namely, the aldermanic, the commission form, and the city manager plan. Communities of less than 500 populations are listed as TOWNS and must have a trustee form of government. Since the aldermanic plan is more common for first and second-class cities in South Dakota, the cities in South Dakota Boys State are organized in accordance with the aldermanic form. The only elective offices in a city under the aldermanic plan are the mayors, who are elected at large, and one councilman elected from and by the electors of each ward. The City Auditor, City Treasurer, City Attorney, City Engineer, City Assessor, Chief of Police, Policemen, and other city offices are appointed by the mayor with the approval of the council.

Candidates for all elective offices file nominating petitions with the City Auditor and in that way have their names appear upon the ballot, without references to any political party since municipal elections are non-political in South Dakota.

CITY ELECTIVE OFFICES

In Boys State, there will be a Mayor elected and one alderman from each ward. Any citizen desiring to become a candidate for either position must file a nominating certificate for mayor or a declaration of candidacy for alderman with his city counselor before 8:30 a.m. Tuesday, containing his name, the number of his ward, the name of his city and the office for which he is a candidate. No citizen may be a candidate for more than one of these offices.

A Certificate of Nomination may be secured from your city counselor and it shall be signed by not less than three or more than five electors of his city. A candidate may circulate his own Certificate of Nomination if he wishes or secure some other citizen in his city to circulate it for him. The City Counselor shall deliver all such Certificates of Nomination filed with him to Headquarters JFAC 107 by 9:00 a.m. Tuesday in order to provide sufficient time in which to prepare the ballots for the election in the morning.

The election will be held at 11:45 a.m. on Tuesday morning in the City Rooms. For an example of this ballot form, see Appendix 1: City Ballot, p.41.

OATH OF OFFICE

All elected municipal officers are given the following oath of office Wednesday morning: “I do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the American Legion Boys State of South Dakota and the Constitution of the State of South Dakota, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of my office.”

CITY GOVERNMENT

The Mayor is the chief executive of the city. He:

1. Presides at all City Council meetings but has no vote except in case of a tie.
2. Appoints the following officers with the approval of the Council: City Auditor, City Treasurer, City Attorney, Chief of Police, two Policemen, City Engineer, City Assessor, and Health Commissioner. In Boys State, he also appoints a City Postmaster and Recreation Director. He may remove any appointed officer from office at will, if he is of the opinion that the interests of the city demand such removal but shall report the reason for removal to the Council at its next meeting.
3. Supervises the work of all appointed officers and holds them responsible for the proper performance of their duties.
4. Presents to the Council a message containing information relative to the affairs of the city and recommend measures that he may deem expedient within twenty-four hours after he takes office. He may within twenty-four hours sign or veto any ordinance passed by the Council, but by a two-thirds vote of its members, the Council may pass an ordinance over his veto.
5. May exercise police powers personally to suppress disorder and maintain the peace. In case he finds himself unable to cope with a state of disorder, he shall be obligated to call upon the Governor for aid by the State Police. He may release any person imprisoned for violation of an ordinance or remit any fine or penalty, with his reasons being recorded in the City Auditor's Office.

City Council is composed of one Alderman from each of the five wards in a city. The council is presided over by the Mayor, but he has no vote except in case of a tie. The Council:

1. Acts as a legislative unit for the city government by enacting ordinances and resolutions for the welfare of its citizens.
2. Considers the Mayor's recommendations regarding legislative measures.
3. Confirms all appointments made by the Mayor.
4. Fills vacancies that may develop in elective or appointed offices because of death, resignation, or other causes.

City Auditor shall keep his office at such place as the governing body may direct, keep the corporate seal, all papers and records of the municipality, and a record of the proceedings of the governing body, whose meetings it shall be his duty to attend. He shall draw and countersign all warrants on the treasury in pursuance of orders or resolutions of the governing body and keep a full and accurate account thereof in books provided for that purpose.

City Treasurer shall receive all moneys belonging to the city including taxes, licenses, fines, and income from all other sources, and he shall receive special assessments and keep an accurate and detailed account thereof in such manner as the governing body may direct.

City Assessor prepares and keeps in his office information regarding the real and personal property within the city that enables him to determine the value of the property for the purpose of assessment. All property is assessed at 85% of its true and full value in money. When the assessment roll is completed, he returns it to the city auditor who presents it to the board of review or equalization at its regular meeting. The assessor also assists in the making of special assessments for municipal improvements.

City Engineer must be a practical engineer and surveyor. The governing body shall by ordinance prescribe his duties and fix his compensation. All surveys, profiles, plans or estimates made by him for the city shall be the property of the city and shall be carefully preserved in the office of the engineer, open to public inspection.

The City Attorney gives legal advice to the Mayor and other officers of the municipal government. He defends the city against lawsuits, represents the city when it is the plaintiff before any court, and acts as a prosecutor before the Police Magistrate Court of any citizen charged with the violation of a city ordinance. No citizen may be appointed City Attorney unless he has been admitted to the bar. See also the section on Court Procedure, p.36-39.

The Chief of Police acts as the principal agent for law enforcement in the city, seeing that ordinances are observed, and order maintained. He takes charge of the citizens composing a city prior to morning exercises and calls roll, reporting absences or laggards to the City Counselor. He must have attended law enforcement school and passed the law enforcement test. A police officer may make an arrest without a warrant if a violation has been committed in his presence. If the violation has not been committed in his presence, he must secure a warrant of arrest upon a sworn complaint filed with the Justice of the Peace or Police Magistrate. Any citizen may make a complaint for any violation and have a warrant issued for the offender. Such an arrest must be made by a peace officer.

The Policemen assist the Chief of Police in carrying out his duties. They must also have attended law enforcement school and passed the law enforcement test.

The Health Commissioner is alert at all times to detect sickness or injuries among citizens and reports his findings to the City Counselor. He makes daily sanitary inspections in his area, including the condition of the washrooms, shower baths, toilets, drains, etc. He takes charge of morning cleanup of quarters. He may file a complaint before the Police Magistrate and cause the arrest of any citizen failing to cooperate with sanitary regulations.

The City Postmaster shall be responsible for collecting and mailing cards and letters before the evening meal, and for distributing all incoming mail to the boys in his city.

The City Recreation Director shall organize recreational activities within his city under the supervision of the Boys State Director of Recreation.

ORDINANCES AND RESOLUTIONS

An Ordinance is a permanent legislative act of the governing body of a city. A resolution is any determination of the governing body, of a special or temporary character. The style of all ordinances may be as follows:

“Be it ordained by the City of _____ that (substance of ordinance) ...”

An ordinance is normally read twice with at least one week intervening between the first and the second reading. It is then signed by the Mayor, filed with the Auditor, and published once. In Boys State, due to lack of time, an ordinance may be read once and passed at any meeting of the Council and shall become effective as soon as the Mayor signs it. The City Auditor shall record all ordinances in the city auditor’s record book immediately after passage thereof. For more examples, see Appendix 2: Suggested Forms of Ordinance, p.42.

COUNTY ELECTIONS

County government in Boys State is emphasized on Tuesday and Wednesday. Slates of nominees for county offices are drawn up by each party in a party convention on Tuesday evening. Officers are elected on Wednesday morning and sworn in on Wednesday night. South Dakota law requires that all candidates on primary ballots must have their petition filed by the first Tuesday in April with the County Auditor for county elections or the Secretary of State for offices filled by districts comprising more than one county, or by the whole state. The petitions must be signed by one percent of the party electors voting for Governor in the preceding election in such county, district, or state. In Boys State, however, because of lack of time, party nominations are made on the second day. Thus, all county officers, except non-political officers, are selected at party caucuses, instead of through primary elections. The Circuit Judge will be elected on a non-political ballot after having filed a non-political nominating petition. A Circuit Court Judge may not be a candidate for Justice of the Supreme Court or a candidate for the legislature. Any citizen of Boys State desiring to be a candidate for a non-political office must file a nominating petition with the Election Commission (Room JFAC 107) by 8:40 a.m. Wednesday. Ask your City Counselor for a nominating petition and such petition shall contain the names of not less than five or more than ten signers.

CANDIDATES NOMINATED AT CAUCUSES

The candidates to be nominated at the party caucus held on Tuesday evening are as follows: 1 Sheriff, 1 County Treasurer, 1 County Auditor, 1 States Attorney, 1 Register of Deeds, 1 Coroner, 5 County Commissioners (one being from each of the five commissioner districts), 8 Senators, and 16 Representatives.

COUNTY ELECTION

The election of both the political and non-political officers will be held in the city rooms on Wednesday morning and an example of that ballot is found in Appendix 3: County Ballot, p.43. All officers elected on Wednesday are given the oath of office that evening.

DUTIES OF COUNTY OFFICERS

The County Commissioners elect one of their number as chairman at the first meeting of the Board of County Commissioners. Among some of the Board's duties are the following:

1. To make orders regarding the care and preservation or sale of all county property.
2. To audit the accounts of all officers having the care, management, collection, or disbursement of any county money.
3. To levy taxes and to liquidate indebtedness.

5. To establish election precincts and appoint judges of election.
6. To furnish necessary equipment and supplies for county offices.
7. To superintend the fiscal concerns of the county and secure their management in the best possible manner and to order payment of any bills presented to the county.
8. To establish, promote, and support community development.
9. To develop, enact, and enforce building codes.
10. To protect the general health and safety of county residents.
11. To provide for law enforcement and correctional services in the county and to prosecute civil actions in the name of the county, for and on behalf of the county.

13. To regulate the transaction of business in alcoholic beverages; to establish number of on-sale licenses which may be issues and fix the fee for the various classifications.
14. To make ordinances prohibiting the sale or exhibition of any obscene matter; however, no county resolutions shall be effective in an incorporated area within such county.

The Sheriff shall keep and preserve the peace within his county, and to this end, he is empowered to call to his aid such persons of his county as he deems necessary. He must pursue and apprehend all felons and execute all writs, warrants, and other process from a Court of Magistrate directed to him by legal authority. He shall attend the sessions of the Circuit Court and of the Board of County Commissioners when required by the Board to attend. He must have attended Law Enforcement School and passed a Law Enforcement test.

The Coroner is the official charged with holding inquests over the body of any citizen found dead under suspicious circumstances or those killed in accidents. A Coroner’s Jury of citizens assists him in this procedure. The Coroner has the power to arrest anyone accused of a crime by the Coroner’s Jury, or he can direct the Sheriff to make the arrest by giving him a Coroner’s Warrant. If the Sheriff is disqualified or incapacitated, the Coroner shall exercise the powers and duties of the office of the Sheriff.

The County Auditor shall be the clerk of the Board of County Commissioners, keep accurate record of its official proceedings, and carefully preserve all the documents, books, records, maps, and other papers required to be deposited in his office. He is also required to keep duplicates of the treasurer’s cashbook and ledger. He shall also, at the close of each calendar month, list all cash and cash items in the hands of the County Treasurer and verify the balances in the several bank depositories. He shall report the same to the Board of County Commissioners at each regular meeting. He shall make out and deliver notices of special and general elections, make abstracts of the canvassing of the votes cast at any election, and issue certificates of election (see example Appendix 4: Certificate of Election, p.44).

The County Treasurer is the collector of taxes. He receives all money belonging to the county from whatever source derived. He shall disburse money only on the warrant of the Board of County Commissioners. He is charged with the amount of all tax lists in his hands for collection and credited with the amount collected thereon. He shall keep accurate record of all money received or disbursed.

The Register of Deeds shall keep records of all deeds, mortgages, chattel mortgages, bills of sale, conditional sale contracts, and other instruments authorized by law to be recorded or filed in his office, provided the person shall pay the recording or filing fee. He shall endorse thereon the specific time of such delivery and whenever any instrument is recorded, he shall also endorse thereon the page and book in which such instrument is recorded. The Register of Deeds acts as the registrar of vital statistics and keeps a record of birth records, death certificates, and issues marriage licenses.

The State’s Attorney’s principal duties relate to the enforcement of criminal law. He investigates crimes either upon his own initiative or upon the complaint of citizens, and he may institute criminal action by filing information with the courts or by drawing up indictments and submitting them to a grand jury. He prosecutes all citizens charged with the violation of state laws, represents the county in all civil suits to which any of its officers may be a party, and brings to trial any public official suspected of misconduct while in office. All candidates for State’s Attorney must have passed the bar examination.

APPOINTED COUNTY OFFICERS

If, in judgment of the Board of County Commissioners, it shall be deemed necessary for the prompt and accurate dispatch of business that deputies or clerks be employed in a County office, it shall by resolution fix the number of deputies or clerks to be employed, the time of employment, and the compensation which they shall receive. The officer in whose office such deputy or clerk is employed shall have the sole power of appointing the same or removing them at pleasure. See also the following example of appointment notice and oath of office.

- SHERIFF—Two deputies. One to serve as Bailiff of the Circuit Court and the other as County Jailor.
- COUNTY TREASURER—One deputy as general assistant.
- CORONER—One deputy as general assistant.

STATE GOVERNMENT

The State Government of South Dakota is divided into three distinct branches: legislative, executive, and judicial. The legislative branch makes the laws and consists of the State Senate and House of Representatives; the executive branch, headed by the governor, is responsible for seeing that the laws are faithfully carried out; and the judicial branch interprets the laws and decides whether or not laws passed by the Legislature are in harmony with the Constitution.

The Supreme Court, which makes up the judicial branch, consists of five Justices. The state is divided into five Supreme Court Districts and one Justice is elected from each district.

There are two general groups of agencies for the performance of the executive functions of government. The first group consists of agencies headed by elected officials including the offices provided for in the Constitution: the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, State Auditor, State Treasurer, Attorney General, and Commissioner of School and Public Lands. The three members of the Public Utilities Commission are also elected for a term of six years, one member being elected every two years. This commission is not provided for in the Constitution but was created by statute. The Governor and Lt. Governor are elected as a team for a four-year term and are both limited to two consecutive terms.

The second group consists of agencies headed by appointed officials and comprises the principal administrative departments to which boards and commissions are attached to serve specified advisory and policy functions. The agencies in this group are nearly all created by statute, although the appointed Board of Regents is provided for in the Constitution. Under the Constitution, the Governor is charged with supervising each of the principal departments of state government. There are currently seventeen principal departments.

All candidates for a State political office, except the Governor, are nominated at State political conventions. The Governor, our two United States Senators, and one Representative are nominated at the primary election, unless such candidates fail to receive at least 35% of the total vote cast by their party at the primary, in which event, they are nominated by a run-off election between the two highest vote getters.

STATE CONVENTIONS

Our law provides that each political party shall hold a State convention at a place determined by vote of the assembled delegates and at a time determined by the state central committee. After perfecting its organization, the convention proceeds to adopt the state party platform, voting on each plank separately. They nominate candidates for the offices hereinbefore mentioned.

In Boys State, each party will hold its state convention on Wednesday evening. Each Boys Stater belongs to either the Federalist or the Nationalist Party and will participate in his own party convention. Convention procedure should be studied, and plans made in advance as to which boys will be the first candidate material.

In actual political conventions in South Dakota, voting is done by Counties with each County having a minimum of three delegates at the Democratic convention and five delegates at the Republican convention – the voting strength of each delegation determined by the actual vote cast within the county at the last gubernatorial election. In Boys State political conventions, the voting is done by cities, each city being entitled to the number of votes as they have citizens present at the convention. On each ballot, the roll of the cities will be called, and the Chairman will cast the vote for the entire delegation. A city may cast all of its votes for one candidate or split its vote between the nominees, according to the wishes of the delegation.

At the time set for the opening of the convention, the counselor in charge will appoint two of the delegates, who will act as temporary chairman and temporary secretary. The temporary chairman will then call for nominations for permanent Convention Chairman. As soon as the permanent chairman is elected, he will take charge of the meeting. His first duty will be to appoint a secretary and assistant secretary to keep the records of the Convention.

One of the most important functions of a party convention is the adoption of a party platform. The party platform sets forth the party's stand on the various political issues and what they propose to do if elected. Candidates refer to party platforms frequently in their campaigns. A platform committee usually drafts party platforms. The chairman at this time should appoint a platform committee.

The chairman then calls on a delegate to introduce the Keynote Speaker. This is usually prearranged by the delegates. The Keynote Speaker expounds upon party philosophy and fires up the enthusiasm of the party. After the Keynote Speaker finishes his talk, the convention proceeds to its adoption. They may vote upon it plank by plank, or with unanimous consent, may adopt it in total. The chairman should inquire as to the wishes of the convention. After the platform has been adopted, the next order of business is the nomination and election of the party's candidates, as follows: Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, State Auditor, State Treasurer, Attorney General, Commissioner of School and Public Lands, and three Public Utility Commissioners.

When all candidates have been selected, the chairman asks for a motion to adjourn. A complete (legible) report of the party's candidates must be reported to the Headquarters JFAC 107 immediately following completion of the slate of nominees.

NON-POLITICAL CANDIDATES

After they have filed nominating petitions, the Supreme Court Justices are elected on a non-political ballot. The Justices of the Supreme Court are nominated by districts and must be voting residents of the district in which they are nominated, then they are elected by the electorate of the districts they represent. The petition for Supreme Court Justice can be received from your City Counselor and is to be signed by not less than ten signers. The nominating petitions must be filed in JFAC 107 by 7:45 a.m. Thursday.

STATE ELECTIONS

The election of both political and non-political officers will be held in the City Room on Thursday. See Appendix 5: State Election Ballot, p.45, for an example of what that ballot will look like.

DUTIES OF STATE OFFICERS

The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court swears in all state officers during the Joint Session of the Legislature. The Chief Justice also swears in the members of the Legislature, at the time when those two bodies first convene in the House and Senate Chambers.

Following is a brief outline of the functions and duties of each elective state officer.

The Governor is the chief executive of the government of Boys State. He shall:

1. Inform the legislature of the state of the State and recommend measures that he deems expedient.
2. Appoint such executive assistants and other officers as provided by law, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate.
3. Be responsible for the proper supervision of appointed officials and have the power to remove them from office for cause.
4. Sign or veto all bills passed by the Legislature. The power of veto must be exercised within 24 hours from the time a bill reaches his hands; otherwise, the bill becomes a law without his signature. A bill vetoed by the Governor may be enacted into law upon the vote of two-thirds of the membership of both houses of the Legislature.
5. Be able to pardon or commute sentences of citizens convicted of violating the laws of Boys State.
6. Be the official representative of South Dakota Boys State in all contacts with the Governors or officials of other Boys States.
7. Have the power to make appointments to fill vacancies in state offices until such vacancies can be filled at the next general election. These appointments must be by and with the advice and consent of the Senate if the legislature is in session. If the legislature is not in session, the appointments may be made ad interim, and placed before the Senate for consideration at its next session. The following appointments will be made at Boys State:

STATE LEGISLATURE

The State Legislature consists of two chambers: the Senate, and the House of Representatives. The State Constitution provides that the House of Representatives shall not be less than 50 or more than 75 members, and the number of Senators shall not be less than 25 or more than 35. The Legislature determines its number of members, and its membership is apportioned among legislative districts in accordance with the last federal census. The Legislature makes such an apportionment every ten years and at no other time. In general, no one holding any federal, state, or county elective office, nor any person holding any lucrative office under the United States or this State, is eligible for election to either branch of the Legislature.

In Boys State, the Senate consists of eight from each county; and the House of Representatives consists of 16 from each county. In case of a tie in the Senate or House, the party of the incumbent Governor shall hold the majority.

State legislators are state officers, but for the purpose of Boys State, they are elected at the time of the election of County officers. A departure in election procedure is necessary to properly coordinate the program. The party convention plan is substituted for the primary election in nominating legislators as well as County officers. The county general election is held Wednesday morning, at which time the legislators are elected. Both branches of the Legislature have their initial meeting Thursday morning. The Legislature, as the first branch of state government, has two roles: 1) to grant authority and legitimacy to public policies, programs, and agencies, and 2) to provide legislative oversight and evaluation to ensure that legislative purposes are being fulfilled. Due to the short time that is available, the Boys State Legislature shall devote its time to the first role.

The Legislature grants authority when it passes legislation. Legislation should always have the intended goal to promote and protect the general welfare and well-being of the state and its citizens. The State Constitution requires all legislation to have an enacting clause, namely “Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of South Dakota.” No law shall be passed unless by assent of a majority of all the members elected to each house. The “nay” and “yea” votes shall be entered upon the journal. The presiding officer of each house shall, in the presence of their house, sign all bills and joint resolutions passed by the Legislature, and the fact of signing shall be entered in the journal.

By virtue of his office, the Lieutenant Governor is the President of the Senate. Other Senate officers include a President Pro Tempore, Secretary of the Senate, Assistant Secretary, Bill Clerk, Chief of Engrossing and Enrolling, Sergeant at Arms, Chaplain, and Pages.

The presiding officer of the House of Representatives is known as the Speaker. He is a member of the House of Representatives and therefore has a vote on all questions. Other officers of the House include the Speaker Pro Tempore, Chief Clerk, Assistant Clerk, Bill Clerk, Chief of Engrossing and Enrolling, Sergeant at Arms, Chaplain, and Pages. All legislative officers – of both houses – with the exception of the President Pro Tempore and the Speaker, are elected or appointed from persons who are not members of either body. In addition to the official house officers, there may be several other legislative officials. Both legislative chambers are further organized along party lines. Both the majority and minority party caucuses have a majority/minority leader, assistant majority/minority leader, and as many whips as the caucus wishes to have. It is the role of the majority party caucus leader to govern and implement its partisan agenda. Official nominations for Speaker and Speaker Pro Tempore come from the majority caucus. It is the role of the minority party caucus, in hopes of implementing its own partisan agenda, to criticize the majority party and compel it to compromise.

ORGANIZATION OF THE HOUSE

1. House called to order by Secretary of State.
2. Prayer
3. Secretary of State then certifies that the following is a true and correct roll call of all members elected to the House of Representatives, as shown by the election returns.
4. Secretary of State then appoints some person to act as temporary clerk until the House is organized.
5. Clerk then calls roll of members as certified to by the Secretary of State.
6. Oath of office is then administered to the members of the House by a Justice of Supreme Court, as follows:
“I do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of The American Legion Boys State of South Dakota, and will faithfully discharge the duties of a member of the House of Representatives according to the best of my ability, and that I have not knowingly or intentionally paid or contributed anything or made any promise in the nature of a bribe, to directly or indirectly influence any vote at the election at which I was chosen to fill said office, and I have not accepted, nor will I accept or receive directly or indirectly, any money, pass, or other valuable thing from any corporation, company or person, for any vote or influence I may give or withhold on any bill or resolution or appropriation of for any other official act.”
7. Some member (state name/county) then moves “that the House proceed to organization and election of officers.”
8. Nominations for Speaker called for by Secretary of State.
9. Speaker is elected on roll call.
10. When elected, Secretary of State announces: “Mr. _____ having received an affirmative vote of a majority of the members elect is declared elected Speaker of the House of Representatives.”
11. Secretary of State appoints a committee of three to escort Mr. _____ to the speaker’s chair.
12. Oath administered to Speaker by Justice of Supreme Court (same oath as above set forth).
13. The Speaker then takes charge. If he wishes, he may appoint the officers of the House; otherwise, proceed on.
14. The Speaker then nominates the following as nominees of the majority party and moves that the same be made the duly elected officers of the House for the session. Nominations should be in writing and sent to the desk by a page.
 - a) Chief Clerk
 - b) Assistant Clerk
 - c) Bill Clerk
 - d) Chief of Enrolling and Engrossing
 - e) Sergeant at Arms
 - f) Pages
15. The Speaker then moves that there being no other nominations, the nominees as named by the majority caucus are voted upon in a body. Roll call vote is taken. Written motion.
16. If the motion carries, the Speaker announces that the motion having received an affirmative vote of the majority of the members-elect, the motion is passed, and the officers nominated are the duly elected officers of the House.

- 17. Oath is then administered to the officers (use same oath as before).
- 18. The above procedure is usually followed if one party has a substantial majority in the House. If both parties are nearly equal in strength, then often each party nominates a slate of officers. Such slate of officers is decided upon at a caucus of some of the members of the House prior to the meeting of the Legislature. Time has been provided in the manual for such a caucus on Thursday afternoon. Should the minority party desire to present a set of candidates, some member of the minority party should make the following motion immediately after the nominating motion of the majority party: "Mr. _____ moves as a substitute motion, the nomination of the following as nominees of the minority party and moves that same be made the duly elected officers of the House for the Session."
- 19. If the substitute motion carries, the Speaker announces as above and the elected officers will take the oath of office.
- 20. In our State Legislature, many standing committees are established to initially consider bills. When hearing a bill, a committee will typically make one of three recommendations to the entire House: "Do Pass," "Do Pass as Amended," or "Do Not Pass." A committee may also return the bill without recommendation.
- 21. At this time, the Speaker, with the advice of the majority leader and the minority leader, should appoint members to each committee. The Chief Clerk will enter the appointments in the journal.
- 22. A member then moves "that the speaker appoint a committee of three to confer with a like committee on the part of the Senate to arrange for a joint session to witness the inauguration of the State officers-elect." Written motion.
- 23. If the motion carries, the Speaker should appoint such committee at this time.
- 24. A member then moves that the Speaker appoint a committee of three to meet with a like committee on the part of the Senate to notify the Governor and the Governor-Elect that the Legislature is duly organized and ready to meet in joint session and to receive any communication they may desire to transmit. Written motion.
- 25. If the motion carries, the Speaker should appoint such committee at this time.
- 26. The House Messenger then sends the following message to the Senate, delivered to the Secretary of the Senate.

"Mr. President:
I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the House is now in session and has organized by the election of the following officers:

Speaker _____
Chief Clerk _____
Assistant Clerk _____
Bill Clerk _____
Chief of Engrossing and Enrolling Force _____
Sergeant at Arms _____
Pages _____ and _____

Also that the House has appointed Messrs. _____, _____, and _____ as a committee of three to meet with a like committee on the part of the Senate to arrange for a joint session to witness the Inauguration of the State officers-elect and to receive the message of the retiring Governor and the inaugural address of the Governor-Elect, the Hon. _____.

Also that the House has appointed Messrs. _____, _____, and _____ as a committee of three on the part of the House to meet with a like Committee on the part of the Senate to notify the Governor that the Legislature is duly organized and ready to meet in Joint Session to receive any communication he may desire to make.

Respectfully submitted,

Chief Clerk"

ORGANIZATION OF THE SENATE

The procedure for the organization of the Senate is similar to the procedure outlined for the organization of the House. In the Senate, however, the Lieutenant Governor presides at the opening session instead of the Secretary of State. The Secretary of State certifies to the membership of the Senate the same as in the House. In organizing the Senate, the same procedure may be followed as outlined for the House by making proper substitution of names such as Senate in place of House, President instead of Speaker, and Secretary instead of Chief Clerk. When the Senate is organized, a similar message is sent to the House as hereinbefore outlined to inform the House that the Senate is organized and ready to meet in joint Session. The following report will then be made in both bodies by the Joint Select Committee heretofore appointed:

REPORT OF JOINT SELECT COMMITTEE

Mr. Speaker (or Mr. President):
"Your Joint-Select Committee appointed to notify the Governor-Elect of the organization of the Legislature and to arrange for the message of the retiring Governor and the inaugural address of the Governor-Elect, respectfully report: That the Hon. _____, retiring Governor, is ready to appear before the Joint Session and deliver his message, and that the Governor-Elect, the Hon. _____ is ready to appear before the Joint Session to deliver his inaugural address.
Respectfully submitted.

Committee on part of Senate

Committee on part of House

Both branches then motion to adopt the Committee report and after it has been adopted, the Senate members adjourn to the House Chambers for the Joint Session.

JOINT SESSION

Since the retiring Lt. Governor of Boys State does not return to Boys State, the Speaker of the House will act in his stead during the Joint Session and will be addressed as “Mr. President.”

1. After the Senate is seated in the House Chambers, the Speaker takes charge of the Joint Session. He calls the body to order and announces “the Joint Session of the Senate and House of Representatives of Boys State of South Dakota will now come to order. The Secretary of the Senate will call the roll of the Senate members.”
2. The Secretary of the Senate then calls the roll and reports as follows: “Mr. President, there are _____ present, _____ absent, and _____ excused. The Chief Clerk of the House will now call the roll of House members.”
3. The Clerk of the House calls the roll of House members and makes the same report at the Secretary of the Senate.
4. The following motion will then be made by a senator on the floor. The motion should be in writing and sent to the desk by a page to be read by the Secretary of the Senate. It is a page’s duty to deliver communications from a member on the floor to the desk.
“Mr. President, _____ Senator from _____ County moves that a committee of four members on the part of the House and three members on the part of the Senate be appointed by the President to escort the Hon. _____, retiring Governor, and the Hon. _____, Governor-Elect, and the State officers-elect to the rostrum.”
5. The motion is put by the President. If passed, he declares the motion carried.
6. The President announces that “the chair appoints as such committee, Messrs. _____, _____, and _____ on the part of the Senate, and _____, _____, _____, and _____ on the part of the House of Representatives, and that the committee shall proceed at once to perform its duty.”
7. When the committee arrives with the Governor, Governor-Elect, and the State officials-elect at the door of the House Chambers, the Sergeant-at-Arms announces:
“Mr. President, I wish to announce the arrival of the Hon. _____, retiring Governor, the Hon. _____, Governor-Elect, and the State officials-elect.”
8. The President then announces, “the members of the Joint Session will please stand.”
9. As the retiring Governor, Governor-Elect, and State officers-elect are being escorted to the rostrum, the members of the session applaud.
10. When the officers are in their places, the members are seated by the President who then announces, “the Hon. _____, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Boys State will now administer the oath of office to the following Boys State Officers-elect.” (See oath in Organization of the House, p. 29)
 - a) Governor _____
 - b) Lt. Governor _____
 - c) Secretary of State _____
 - d) Treasurer _____
 - e) State Auditor _____
 - f) Commissioner of School and Public Lands _____
 - g) Attorney General _____
 - h) Public Utilities Commissioners _____
11. The officers elected will then rise and the Chief Justice will administer the oath, which may be in the same form as hereinbefore set forth. He then introduces the incoming Governor as follows: “It is my privilege and pleasure to present to you the Hon. _____, Governor of Boys State who will deliver his inaugural address.”
12. After the Governor’s address, a senator from the floor makes the following motion: “Mr. President, Senator _____ from _____ County, I move that the Joint Session be now dissolved and that the Senate retire to the Senate Chamber.”
13. After the motion is seconded, the President says, “It has been moved and seconded that the Joint Session now dissolve, and that the Senate retire to the Senate Chamber. As many as favor the motion, say ‘aye.’ As many as are opposed to the motion, say ‘nay.’”
14. If the motion carries, the President announces that “the motion is carried, and the Joint Session is dissolved.”

After the Senate retires, each body may proceed to introduce bills. All bills should be prepared in advance and should be written and submitted to the Bill Clerk in triplicate. All amendments to bills should also be in writing and sent to the desk by a Page.

HOW AN IDEA BECOMES A LAW

All of the ideas, regardless of their size or scope, must be presented to the Legislature in the form of bills. Bills are simply the ideas recorded on paper in a prescribed format. Only legislators and legislative committees may present or introduce bills to the Legislature. However, ideas for bills come from a multitude of sources. First, legislators have their own ideas for bills stemming from their expertise in certain fields, experiences they have had, or observations they have made. Special interest groups are another source of ideas. Members of these groups often ask legislators to sponsor bills promoting their interests. Many ideas for bills come from government agencies. Each year several bills are introduced at the request of the Governor or on behalf of a department in state government. Those who work closely with state law are often able to recommend ways to improve it. Finally, ideas for bills come from those individuals represented by the legislators, the constituents who live in their districts.

The next step is to put an idea into the form of a bill. Anyone can draft a bill, but the rules of the Legislature require that all bills be in the proper form and style. A legislator wishing to introduce a bill generally brings the idea or a draft of the proposed bill to the Legislative Research Council, where staff members will either draft the bill or make final preparations on the bill drafted by others. The legislator who begins to move the bill through the legislative process is known as the prime sponsor. The prime sponsor may introduce the bill independently or seek other legislators to act as co-sponsors of the bill. Senate bills have senators as prime sponsors, and House bills have house members as prime sponsors. However, members of either house may co-sponsor any bill. Bills may not be introduced until the first day of a legislative session. However, those elected to serve in the upcoming Legislature may pre-file bills with the Legislative Research Council, up to thirty days in advance of the first legislative day. Interim committees may pre-file legislation under the names of individual legislators who served on the committee. The rules require executive agencies to pre-file any legislation they wish to have considered.

A bill in proper form consists of three main parts: the title, the enacting clause, and the body. The title gives the reader a brief summary of the subject of the bill. The SD Constitution dictates that bills embrace only one subject, and that subject must be expressed in the title. The enacting clause, "BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF SOUTH DAKOTA," is also required by the SD Constitution and indicates that everything listed below it is to become the law of the state. The body is the remainder of the bill, the part that will actually become law, if passed. It is divided into sections to make it easier to read and to reference.

In addition to the three main parts, a bill also includes a list of sponsors and a number. The name of the prime sponsor always appears first on the bill and then the co-sponsors are alphabetically listed. If a committee is sponsoring a bill, then only the name of the committee is listed. A number is assigned to the bill upon introduction and is used to identify the bill as it works its way through the process.

HOW AN IDEA BECOMES LAW

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT

JURISDICTION OF COURTS

It would be difficult to define the jurisdiction of civil and criminal courts in South Dakota in a few paragraphs. Since most of the court procedure at Boys State is confined to criminal law, and the time for court work is limited, only the criminal procedure will be outlined.

The circuit court has exclusive original jurisdiction to try to determine all cases of felony, and original jurisdiction concurrent with magistrate courts to try to determine all cases of misdemeanor and actions or proceedings for violation of any ordinance, bylaw, or other police regulation of political subdivisions. A felony is defined as any crime punishable by imprisonment in the state penitentiary. All other crimes are termed misdemeanors.

A magistrate court has concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit courts to take pleas of guilty for any criminal offense or for violation of any ordinance, bylaw, or other police regulation of a political subdivision where the punishment is a fine not exceeding $100 or imprisonment for a period not exceeding 30 days, or both such fine and imprisonment, and to impose sentence thereon in accordance with schedules adopted by the presiding judge of the circuit. Magistrate courts with law-trained magistrates presiding shall have concurrent jurisdictions with the circuit courts to act as a committing magistrate for all purposes and to try to determine all cases of misdemeanor and actions or proceedings for violation of any ordinance, bylaw, or other police regulation of a political subdivision.

Violations of city ordinances will be prosecuted in accordance with the ordinances adopted by the respective cities in Boys State. All other offenses, which are designated as crimes under the laws of the State of South Dakota, shall also be crimes in Boys State and subject to prosecution in its courts. Penalties in all Boys State courts shall be limited to nominal fines only.

The Supreme Court, except as otherwise provided, has appellate jurisdiction only. This means if one of the litigants in a lawsuit is not satisfied with the decision rendered in a lower court, he may appeal to the Supreme Court. This court also has original jurisdiction in issuing writs of habeas corpus and may hear and determine the same under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. The Governor has the authority to require the opinion of the Justices of the Supreme Court upon important questions of law involved in the exercise of his executive powers.

A clerk of the Supreme Court is appointed by the Justices and holds office at their pleasure. Some of his duties include providing stationery, postage, and office furnishings for the Justices. He keeps on file all written opinions of the court, which shall not be removed from his office except by the reporter or one of the Justices. He also keeps an account of all fees. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court is elected for a four-year term by the members of the court.

JUDICIAL PROCEDURE

All circuit court trials will be held in the rooms designated for each judicial circuit on page 30 of this manual. Such rooms will be equipped with a desk for the judge, counsel table, and twelve chairs for the jury. These rooms may also be used for trials in police magistrate or county courts when not otherwise occupied.

COMMENCEMENT OF ACTION

All prosecutions start by complaint. A complaint is a verified statement in writing, presented to a judge or magistrate acting as a committing magistrate. The magistrate then issues a warrant for the arrest of the person so charged. When the defendant is brought before him, he advises the defendant of his rights and that he may waive the preliminary hearing. If the defendant does not waive such preliminary examination, he is entitled to a hearing before the committing magistrate. If the magistrate finds from such examination that the offense in the complaint has been committed, and that there is sufficient cause to believe the defendant committed it, he is ordered to be bound over to the circuit court for trial.

For violations of city ordinances, the city is named a party plaintiff and the city attorney acts as prosecuting attorney. For prosecution of a misdemeanor, where the offense is triable in magistrate court, Boys State is named as party plaintiff and the State's Attorney of the county is the prosecuting attorney. In these actions, the defendant is entitled to a jury trial if a jury trial is demanded.

DEFENDANT'S RIGHTS

When a defendant appears in court for trial, or upon being brought before a committing magistrate, he is entitled to be informed of his rights. The judge should advise the defendant substantially as follows:

1. You are entitled to defend this action in person or by counsel at all stages of the proceedings and you have a right to be represented by an attorney.
2. If you do not have an attorney, but desire one, the case will be adjourned long enough for you to obtain and consult with an attorney of your choice. If you do not have sufficient funds with which to employ your own attorney, the court will appoint one for you at public expense.
3. You have the right to demand the nature of the charges against you and to have a copy thereof.
4. You have a right to meet witnesses against you, face to face, and to cross-examine such witnesses.
5. You have a right to call witnesses on your own behalf and to have their presence in court enforced by subpoena or other suitable process.
6. You have a right to a speedy public trial by an impartial jury of the county in which the case is pending.

CHANGE OF VENUE

In cities, for a violation of a municipal ordinance, a change of venue may be taken from one magistrate to the next nearest magistrate. In circuit court, on application of the defendant, a circuit judge may be disqualified by reason of bias or prejudice. In that event, the judge must call in some other circuit judge to sit in his place or under certain conditions, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court appoints another judge. A change from one judge to another judge may be had where either party to the action makes and files an affidavit that he believes he cannot have a fair and impartial trial before the judge by reason of interest, prejudice, or bias of such judge.

JURY

Upon demand, a defendant is entitled to a jury trial in a prosecution for the violation of a city ordinance if upon conviction he would be subject to a jail sentence.

The board of jury selectors consists of the clerk of the circuit court, the chairman of the board of county commissioners, and the county auditor. Each election precinct shall constitute a jury district within the county. There is a master jury list for each county from which jurors shall be drawn for service as grand jurors and as petit jurors. The number of names to be placed on this master jury list for each county shall be designated by order of the circuit court before May 15th of each year and shall not be less than two percent or more than five percent of the total vote cast for Governor at the last election. The current precinct voter registration list prepared by the county auditor serves as the jury selection list. There is a detailed procedure set forth in the statutes to provide for the random selection from the jury selection lists to ensure proportional, unbiased representation upon the master jury list.

In circuit court, under the laws of our state, the circuit judge in May of each year directs the clerk of courts to compile a list of persons eligible for jury service in his county, specifying the number of names on such list, which in no case is less than 150. The clerk then directs the governing bodies of the cities and towns and the board of county commissioners in the rest of the county, to send him a certain number of names, proportioned according to population, of persons having the qualifications of jurors. Prior to the convening of a term of court, the circuit judge then directs the clerk to draw a jury panel, specifying the number to be placed on such panel, and to be summoned to appear on a certain day. The drawing of the names from the jury list is done by the county auditor, county treasurer, and sheriff. Our law also provides that in case the jury panel is exhausted, the judge shall order the sheriff, his deputy, or the coroner, to summon forthwith, a sufficient number of persons possessing the qualifications of jurors to complete the required number.

A jury shall consist of 12 members and each party is entitled to three peremptory challenges in the case of a misdemeanor, and ten in felony cases.

APPEALS

An appeal of a conviction in Magistrate Court may be taken to the circuit court by giving notice of appeal orally to the Magistrate, and the Magistrate will enter on his docket of the giving of such notice.

While an appeal to the Supreme Court is somewhat complicated in its procedure and it would be difficult to set forth each step in detail, a general outline of the appeal from a lower court, in most cases, would involve a motion for a new trial in the lower court. If the motion is denied, a transcript of all of the evidence is secured from the court reporter. A notice of appeal is filed with the clerk of the Supreme Court, the record is then settled. A “settled record” contains all of the pleadings, evidence, exhibits, and other matters in the case. Briefs are submitted by the attorneys, setting forth their contention of the law and the facts. When there are 15-20 cases ready, the Chief Justice sets a term at which oral arguments in these cases will be heard. The attorneys are allowed a total of an hour and fifteen minutes of argument in each case where it has been requested. Oral argument may be waived by the attorneys or dispensed with by the court. Prior to the oral arguments, the names of the cases are put on separate slips of paper and the justices draw these slips from a hat. After oral arguments, the justices discuss the cases. Each justice then writes an opinion for each case he has drawn. The remaining justices then either concur or dissent from the opinions. If a majority of the justices concur in an opinion, it constitutes a decision of the court.

It would not be possible in Boys State to follow this procedure. In an appeal to the Boys State Supreme Court, the party appealing will orally announce in the lower court that he takes an appeal to the Supreme Court. The appellant will then advise the Supreme Court, in writing, that he appeals, and the court will then fix a time and place for hearing the appeal. At the time fixed, both parties may appear, producing all exhibits in the case, and orally state to the court their reasons why the case should be reversed or affirmed.

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

No citizen of Boys State shall be permitted to practice as an attorney or counselor-at-law in any court in Boys State or hold any elective or appointed office in Boys State requiring the qualifications of an attorney, without having successfully passed a Bar Examination. A Certificate of Admission will then be issued to the successful candidate upon taking an oath of office, in substantially the following form:

“I do solemnly swear, or affirm, that:

I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of South Dakota; I will maintain the respect due to courts of justice and judicial officers;

I will not counsel or maintain any suit or proceeding which shall appear to me to be unjust, nor any defense except such as I believe to be honestly debatable under the law of the land;

I will employ for the purpose of maintaining the causes confided to me such means only as are consistent with truth and honor, and will never seek to mislead the judge or jury by any artifice or false statement of fact or law;

I will maintain the confidence and preserve inviolate the secrets of my client, and will accept no compensation in connection with his business, except from him or with his knowledge or approval;

I will abstain from all offensive personality, and advance no fact prejudicial to the honor or reputation of a party or witness, unless required by the justice of the cause with which I am charged;

I will never reject from any consideration personal to myself the cause of the defenseless or oppressed or delay any man’s cause for lucre or malice.”

TRIAL PROCEDURE

The following procedure may be used at all criminal trials at Boys State. The procedure outlined here confirms as closely to South Dakota legal practice as is deemed expedient. Some departure from regular procedure is necessary to expedite trials at Boys State.

- 1) The judge calls the court to order. If the trial is in circuit court, the judge asks the sheriff to open court. The sheriff does so by standing and announcing in the courtroom as follows: “Hear ye, Hear ye, the (n-th) circuit court of Boys State is now open for the regular dispatch of all business that may come before it; the Honorable _____ Judge, presiding.”
- 2) The Chief of Police or Sheriff brings the accused before the bench.
- 3) The city attorney or State’s Attorney advises the judge of the nature of the criminal charge against the defendant. He delivers a copy of the complaint, or information, to the defendant.
- 4) The judge must inform the defendant that if the name in the information be not his true name, he must then declare his true name or be proceeded against by the name given in the information.
- 5) The judge then advises the defendant of his rights as found on pg. 36-37.
- 6) The judge then advises the defendant of the nature of the charge against him and advises him that any plea he makes must be voluntary and of his own free will and accord. He then asks the defendant to state how he pleads – guilty or not guilty.
- 7) If the defendant enters a plea of “guilty,” the judge may pronounce sentence forthwith. If the defendant pleads “not guilty,” the case may be tried immediately, or adjourned to a time convenient to the Court.
- 8) If a jury is demanded in magistrate court, follow the procedure outlined in the manual under the heading “Jury” in the section on Judicial Department. In circuit court, the defendant is entitled to a jury trial and the judge should direct the clerk of court to draw a jury per procedure outlined.

- 9) The clerk calls a jury by drawing names out of a ballot box, and as a prospective juror's name is called, he takes his place in the jury box. When the required number has been called, the clerk of court administers this oath: "You do solemnly swear that you will true answers make to such questions as may be propounded to you by Court or counsel, touching upon your qualifications to act as jurors in this case."
- 10) The defendant's attorney first examines the jury for cause, by asking them questions to determine their fitness to act as jurors in the case. After he has completed his examination, the prosecuting attorney questions them in like manner. If a juror is excused for cause, another juror is called by the clerk to take the place of the juror so excused.
- 11) A challenge for cause may be based upon any of the following reasons:
 - a) Conviction of a felony.
 - b) Being of unsound mind, or unable to read, write, or understand the English language.
 - c) Existence of a state of mind in reference to the case or party, so that he cannot be impartial.
 - d) Standing in the relationship of guardian and ward, attorney and client, master and servant, landlord and tenant, or being related to the defendant, or to the person alleged to have been injured by the offense charged, or to the party who signed the complaint.
 - f) Having served on a jury which has tried another person for the offense charged in the complaint.
- 12) In circuit court, after both parties have examined for cause, each side is entitled to a certain number of peremptory challenges. A peremptory challenge is an objection to a juror for which no reason need be given, but upon which the Court must exclude him. Such a challenge is taken alternately, first by the prosecution, then the defense, by announcing that he "exercises." Thereupon the clerk calls another juror, who is examined for cause in the same manner as the previous jurors. If an attorney does not choose to exercise, he announces that he "waives." Each side is entitled to three challenges for a misdemeanor, and ten in felony cases.
- 13) After both parties have waived, or exhausted, their peremptory challenges, the following oath is administered by the clerk of court: "You do solemnly swear that you will well and truly try and true deliverance make between the (City or State) v. _____ defendant, whom you shall have in charge, and a true verdict render according to the evidence and the instructions of the Court."
- 14) The prosecuting attorney makes his opening statement by reading the information to the jury and stating the defendant's plea of "not guilty." He then outlines what the prosecution intends to prove. The defendant's attorney then has an opportunity to explain to the jury what he intends to prove by way of a defense. He may do so then or wait until he presents his case.
- 15) The prosecution calls his witnesses and after he has rested his case, the defense proceeds. When a witness is called to testify, he takes this oath administered by the clerk of courts: "You do solemnly swear that the evidence you shall give be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth."
- 16) After all of the evidence is in and both sides have rested, the judge instructs the jury in writing. These instructions cover the law in the case. Among other things, the judge instructs the jury that:
 - a) The burden of proof is on the State to prove the defendant's guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.
 - b) The defendant is presumed innocent until the contrary is proved beyond a reasonable doubt.
 - c) That the jury is the sole judge of the credibility of witnesses and the weight and value to be given to their testimony.
 - d) That any verdict returned must be unanimous, that is, agreed upon by all members of the jury.
- 17) After the judge instructs the jury, the attorneys make their closing arguments, starting with the prosecution, then the defense. The prosecuting attorney is then entitled to rebuttal.
- 18) When the arguments are completed, the judge directs the clerk to administer the oath to the bailiffs, as follows: "You do solemnly swear that you will keep the jury together in some convenient place until they have agreed upon a verdict or are discharged by the Court. Unless by order of Court, you will not suffer any communications to be made to them nor do so yourself, except to ask them if they have agreed upon a verdict, or to make such communications necessary for their food and maintenance; and that you will not, before their verdict is rendered, communicate to any person the state of their deliberations or the verdict agreed upon."
- 19) The bailiffs take charge of the jury, and if possible, should keep them in a separate room during their deliberations. After the jury has arrived at a verdict, they are returned to court. When they are seated in the jury box, the Court asks them if they have arrived at a verdict. If they reply in the affirmative, the judge directs the Foreman to rise and announce the verdict. He does so by saying, "As to the charge of _____, we, the jury, find the defendant..." guilty or not guilty, as the case may be. After the verdict is rendered, the judge excuses the jury.
- 20) If the verdict is "guilty," the judge may pronounce sentence at that time or defer sentencing until a later date. If the verdict is "not guilty," the defendant must be discharged and released from custody.

CITIZENS FORUM

The Citizens Forum is an opportunity for those not elected to the Executive, Judicial, or Legislative branches to be directly engaged in the legislative process. The members of the Forum are divided into five different groups (State Affairs, Local Government, Agriculture and Natural Resources, Taxation, and Education) with each committee electing a chair and vice-chair. The groups each select a topic and write a bill that they hope will become a law. The groups then compete to see which of their bills, if any, will be passed by the two houses of the Legislature, and signed into law by the Boys State Governor.

The Forum groups must find a Boys State Senator or Representative who will introduce their bills in the Legislature. Once a bill is introduced and assigned to a committee of the House or Senate, each Forum group must convince the committee that its bill should be reported out of committee with a favorable recommendation. After that is accomplished, votes must be lined up in the House and Senate to ensure passage of the bill. Once passed, the Boys State Governor must be prevailed upon to sign the bill and not veto it, as he may wish to do. The Forum members learn in detail how legislation moves through the Legislature and the difficulties involved in law-making on a state level.

BOYS NATION

Boys Nation does on a national scale what we do at Boys State on a local scale. The two Boys Nation representatives from South Dakota, selected by the American Legion during Boys State week, may have won a high honor or political office at Boys State or may not have held a position of great responsibility but in other ways demonstrated good citizenship and leadership. 2022 Boys Nation will be held at Marymount University, Arlington, Virginia, July 22nd – 30th 2022. Boys Nation delegates will be identified at the final Friday assembly.

WALTER S. “SPEEDY” TRAVIS MEMORIAL AWARD

This scholarship, provided by his family, will perpetuate the memory of Walter “Speedy” Travis, who served in several major staff positions at South Dakota Boys State, including more than a quarter century as Counselor in Journalism City. An eminent journalist in his own right, his early assignments included ongoing progress reports on the carving of Mt. Rushmore, host reporter for President Coolidge’s summer White House in the Black Hills, and Associated Press correspondent at our nation’s first venture into space. A lobbyist extraordinaire, Mr. Travis is the only person who—by official statute—has a dedicated chair placed permanently in the state capitol in Pierre. This scholarship is offered to a member of Media Team, selected on the basis of his ability who desires to pursue a career in journalism, and may be used at any college or university.

PREAMBLE TO THE CONSTITUTION OF
THE AMERICAN LEGION

FOR God and Country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes:

TO uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America;

TO maintain law and order;

TO foster and perpetuate a one hundred percent Americanism;

TO preserve the memories and incidents of our associations in All Wars;

TO inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state, and nation;

TO combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses;

TO make right the master of might;

TO promote peace and goodwill on earth;

TO safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom, and democracy;

TO consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.

AMERICAN LEGION

The American Legion is the largest veteran's organization in the world made up of approximately 1.8 million wartime veterans in all 50 States along with the Philippines, Mexico, France, and Puerto Rico. In South Dakota, approximately 17,500 veterans are members in 241 American Legion Posts across the State. Membership in the American Legion Auxiliary is approximately 14,000 members. Sons of the American Legion, male descendants of a veteran, number approximately 800 members. The American Legion family works together to support the ideals and principles of the organization. The United States Congress chartered the wartime veteran's organization and established the eligibility dates for membership in 1919.

The American Legion was born at a caucus of the American Expeditionary Force in Paris, France, at the conclusion of World War I. The organizational caucus was held May 8-10, 1919, in St. Louis, Missouri. Lt Col Theodore Roosevelt Jr. proposed starting The American Legion and was given the title "Father of the American Legion." The American Legion was founded to help the many returning veterans of World War I receive health care and benefits upon their return home to the United States. The four principles, referred to by The American Legion as pillars – noting the four tall pillars on the National Headquarters Building in Indianapolis, Indiana – remain the foundation of the organization today. These pillars are Veterans Affairs & Rehabilitation, National Security, Americanism, and Children & Youth.

Veterans Affairs & Rehabilitation refers to the continuous efforts of providing benefits, health care, and support to veterans in need. National Security is maintaining a strong military force to protect the United States. Americanism is the promoting of American ideas in schools, communities, states, and in the nation. Children & Youth is the caring and education of our youth. These four pillars are being practiced in communities across the nation by American Legion members.

Many American Legion Posts across the state and nation are the backbone of their communities. These Posts provide meeting places, color guards at patriotic events, military funerals, assistance to families in need, financing for youth programs, and whatever else their community needs for assistance.
